

Thursday 30th July, 2020

Stay Safe when Celebrating Eid

Dear Parents/Carers,

We know that tomorrow is a really special day for some of you as it is Eid. Usually Eid is a time when you can visit friends and family and celebrate altogether.

Unfortunately, this year is going to look different and we just want to remind you that we are still in lock down and we still have to stay home even for Eid.

This may feel strange, but it is to keep everybody safe and healthy. Even if you do feel healthy and don't have any symptoms, we need to follow the government guidelines. If we do this now it will mean we can see our family and friends sooner once lockdown lifts.

You can still celebrate this special day, but just make sure it is within your homes and with the family members that you live with.

We hope you have a wonderful day celebrating and it brings joy in this difficult time.

Take Care and Stay Safe.

Yours sincerely,

Tony Cerra
Principal

Jason Kenny
Assistant Principal